Taftville and Planfield Clash in Initial Association Football Game of Season-All Teams Register Players-Killingly Has Fast Aggregation.

go onto the field this fall with a team a good deal stronger than the one in the spring as they have additions from the disbanded Ponemah Wheel club and Baltic teams, having selected the strongest for their weak points.

The Killingly team, new to Eastern Connecticut football, is the dark horse of the triple alliance but rumors from up the line indicate that they are a clever and fast bunch. Having won a loving cup last spring their followers are confident that they will make a good showing. The registered players to date follow.

The opener of the Association football season in competition for The Bulletin cup will take place this afternoon, when the old rivals, Taftville and Plainfield meet at Plainfield for the first time this season in the beginning of the championship series, that last year created much interest and the chances are that the rivalry this fall will be of the keenest.

Plainfield, last season's champions, and holder of The Bulletin cup, have practically the same strong aggergation and have already played two games with Crompton, R. I. All the men are in excellent condition and if the heat does not prevent; fans will enjoy a rare treat in football. Taftville will go onto the field this fall with a team a good deal stronger than the one in the suring as they have additions on the gridifon.

Albright has never been a menacing opponent against Carlisis in the annual contests of past seasons, but the size of the score run up by the Infindians has always been accepted as a reasonably accurate forecast of the strength of the victors for the season. Owing to the extreme heat since the beginning of practice and the introduction of a new coaching system and staff, the result of tomorrow's game can hardly be accepted with the same value accorded in past years.

Leonard's pitching was the outstanding feature of the game. Ably supported by his fielders, he held the hard-hitting Tigers to one single, in the first eight innings. With the tension somewhat lessened in the ninth, he hit Vitt and grooved a hall for Cobb. The latter sent it flying into the right field stands, an unusual hit at Fenway park, and the visitors' only runs were scored.

at Fenway park, and the visitors' only runs were scored.

As in yesterday's game, the fine pitchin gon one side was not matched on the other. James, Manager Jennings' first choice, proved a poor one, his six bases on balls giving Boston opportunities from which sa, runs were developed in the first three innings. Boland took his place and pitched a much tighter game.

Although feeling between the teams ran high throughout the game, it was not so much in evidence as was the case yesterday. The score:
